ROBERT DOUGLAS HUNTER

Master painter, Robert Douglas Hunter, is one of the most distinguished artists of the famed Boston School. A graduate of the Vesper George School of Art, he studied with Henry Hensche and then intensively with R.H. Ives Gammell for five years. He has taught over 40 students who are now full-time professional artists who, in turn, have trained many others.

Bob's paintings emphasize carefully planned compositions, accurate drawing, and the creation of atmosphere through the use of light and shadow. His paintings have won more than thirty regional and national prizes, including the first John Singleton Copley Award and the first Copley Medallion. In addition, he has won 14 Gold Medals at the annual exhibition of New England artists and is the recipient of awards from the Guild of Boston Artists.

In 2001, the Cape Cod Museum of Art opened a new naturally-lit gallery named in his honor, and mounted a retrospective exhibition of his paintings in the new space. Bob has been featured in American Artist magazine and is listed in Who's Who in American Art. His paintings are in the collections of museums, universities, and corporations all around the country.
